A meeting of company commanders, staff and special staff officers was held at 1945 for general briefing on the forthcoming movement to WONJU. At 2400, Lieutenant Colonel John W. Stevens II was relieved as Commanding Officer, 1st Battalion, 5th Marines and Lieutenant Colonel John L. Hopkins assumed command. Weather fair and warmer. Two (2) sick evacuated.

20. The battalion commenced preparation at 0800 for the trip to WONJU. At 1430, a meeting was held with company commanders, company executive officers, executive and special staff officers for detailed instructions concerning the movement. Five (5) sick evacuated and one (1) returned to duty. The skies were clear and the maximum temperature during the day was approximately 45°F.

The first serial arrived at the assembly area at the city of WONJU at 0620. The last serial, "B" Company, arrived at about 0720, less one (1) overturned truck and seven (7) other trucks delayed by the accident. Two (2) men were killed and eleven (11) injured in the overturned truck. The 5th Marines in their operation order 5-51 ordered the 1st Battalion to move out from WONJOU, pass through elements of the 187th Airborne Regiment, cross the line of departure at 1000 to seize that portion of Division Objective One in the 5th Marines zone. In spite of the all night truck movement from CHUNGJU, lack of sleep by the men and the fact that elements of "B" Company had not arrived, the battalion executed orders as scheduled. "A" and "C" Companies departed from WONJU in route column at 0835 followed by Weapons Company, Engineer Platoon, H&S Company and "B" Company to march the distance of three (3) miles from the assembly point to L.D. The bridge at TA 1038-I was discovered impassable and at 1410 the attached engineer platoon immediately began to repair it with trees cut from a hillside nearby. A new CP was established at TA 1139-L-4 at 1545. The battalion set up a defense perimeter for the night. An attack order for the following morning was received from the Commanding Officer 5th Marines at 2110 and a fragmentary order was issued. "B" Company occupied the high ground at TA 1040-J without enemy contact. Immediately thereafter attached engineers began repairing the bridge at TA 1140-N. Visibility was poor and movement of troops forward was slow due to the muddy ground and the wet packs the men were carrying. By 0920, "A" Company occupied the high ground at TA 1240-T and sent patrols through the village of TUDOCK. There was no enemy opposition. "A" Company then placed a platoon at TA 1240-K-L. During this movement a patrol from "C" Company moving forward along the road received small arms fire from the vicinity of TA 1242-R. The number of enemy was undetermined and fire ceased as elements of "C" Company moved forward and by 1430 had secured the high ground at TA 1142-Y without opposition. "C" Company at its position began receiving small arms fire from its immediate front from and estimated enemy of one (1) platoon. Fifteen (15) enemy troops were observed moving over the hill at TA 1342-B at 1535. At 1620 an air strike was delivered at TA 1242-M. The strike eliminated automatic weapons fire coming from the wooded knoll. At approximately 1630 H&S Company, "A" Company and supply train
